

EVRO – DI TRANS

BESPOKE DATA MANAGEMENT SOFTWARE

Currency Converter

A calculator used to convert the values of one currency into relative values of another currency.

Microsoft Excel Report

Microsoft Excel is a spreadsheet program by the use of which values are arranged in tables and rows. These values can be manipulated mathematically.

Microsoft SQL Server Database

Database is a collection of data or information that is organised in columns and rows so that it is easy to be maintained, updated and accessed.

Login Authentication

Login Authentication is a type of security feature that uses a “username” and “password” to check if a user is authentic.

Graphical User Interface

The Graphical User Interface is used by users to interact with electronic devices or pieces of software.